

Individual research task

(3-4 pages)

Learning outcomes

- You can identify and describe a problem related to learning and teaching that needs to be addressed.
- You can select relevant research methods to explore the problem.
- You can analyze the background of the problem from multiple perspectives.
- You can use references properly.

Assignment

Describe the situation/problem precisely and in a non-evaluating manner. Try to connect it with theoretical bases you have studied in university and read from scientific literature.

Reason and find from different scientific sources the opinions that explain and help you to understand the core nature of the problem (min 6 sources). Use also the materials of your previous studies. NB! Cite sources through proper attribution.

Finally express your own thoughts about the issue as a future teacher. If possible describe also other problems that are connected to your main topic and explain briefly the pedagogical context of the chosen issue. Verbalize how your research could be tied to your final theses.
