

This model for mapping ethics in teacher education provides examples of such perspective, all of which may produce ethically justifiable outcomes but do so with different foci.